Best for?	When you begin to notice a change in your “normal bowel habits” due to constipation. You may want to treat early with a body friendly treatment but are not in need of immediate relief/prefer to wait 24-48 hours.	When you haven’t been able to go for a while and require relief within 6 to 12 hours.	When you want to go to the loo but your stools are hard, dry, and/or uncomfortable to pass.	When you prefer flexibility of doses, small microcapsules and you require relief in 6 to 12 hours.	When you need fast relief from constipation, suppositories usually act in 15-30 minutes.
What is it?	A new sachet laxative that dissolves in water to make a pleasant tasting orange and grapefruit drink.	A proven, effective laxative in the traditional, but small tablet form.	A soft gel capsule that softens stools.	A tiny capsule ideal for those who find tablets difficult to swallow.	Solid, bullet-shaped preparations designed for easy insertion.
How does it work?*	Dulcobalance® is a new body friendly treatment that works by locking to water in the glass. It then transports the water directly to the bowel (where it’s needed) to hydrate your stool. The product is not absorbed by the body	Dulcolax® is predictable as it works in two ways: 1) Treats the constipation 2) Lets your body know when it needs to go.	Dulcoease® is a stool softener that works by increasing the amount of water and salts absorbed by your stool to make it softer and more comfortable to go to the loo.	Dulcolax® Perles work the same as Dulcolax® Tablets to provide overnight relief.	Dulcolax® suppositories are fast acting laxatives that dissolve at body temperature and gradually spread over the lining of the lower bowel where it acts directly to relieve constipation.
